Sticky Knowledge

I know different methods of communication e.g. e-mail, letter, text, phone call, message via social media platforms.

I know that an email is a message sent electronically from one device to one or multiple people. (recipients)

I know that if I am at school and receive email/ message that makes me upset, I should tell the teacher immediately. If at home, then I should tell a parent or guardian.

I know that as well as a message, I can attach files such as photographs, videos, music and other resources to an email and sent to the receiver.

I can name some of the hardware components of a network (wireless connector, router, hard drive, operating system, switch, server, hub).
