WALT: Understand fronted adverbials can show when something is done (place)

behind the pillars,
beside the tunnel,
all around the room,
somewhere nearby,
in front of him,
at the distance,
under his feet,
everywhere he looked,

*Which fronted
adverbial would you
choose and how would you finish the rest of the sentence?*

Let's have a go
using some of
to write sente
to describe ev
in Tadeo Jone

behind the pillars,
inside the tunnel,
all around the room,
somewhere nearby,
in front of him,
in the distance,
under his feet,
everywhere he looked,

and the pillars,
the tunnel,
around the room,
where nearby,
front of him,
distance,
his feet,
where he looked,
his head,
